homeownership.

Self-Help T&MA Contractor Department

Little Dixie C.A.A.'s Mutual Self-Help T&MA Contractor Department provides technical and management assistance to potential and existing Section 523 Self-Help Housing organizations.

Little Dixie began operating a Regional Self-Help Housing Technical Assistance program in 1980 through funding from USDA Rural Development. We work closely with USDA Rural Development offices to implement this service to the South Central Region of the United States, -Arkansas, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Louisiana, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, and Wyoming.

Since 1980, Little Dixie T&MA Contractors have assisted more than 100 Self-Help Housing grantees in obtaining millions of dollars for program oversight and management.

Our T&MA Contractor Department strives to keep the South Central Region properly informed of current issues and updates that impact the self-help community.

We conduct both onsite and group workshops and training to current or prospective grantees to provide both fiscal and management training and technical assistance. We also work to facilitate communications between grantees, prospective grantees and industry resources in order to help them achieve their goals.

Housing for Rural America through the Rural Development Self-Help Housing Program

Self-Help Housing

Self-Help has been around for many years and it grew out of the early barn raising tradition of the Amish and Mennonites. Mutual Self-Help Housing is families working together to participate in the construction of their homes. The work performed by the families is referred to as "sweat equity" and the value of their contribution results in significant cost savings, making these homes affordable for low and very-low income households.

Homes are financed utilizing USDA Rural Development's 502 home ownership loan program. This is a very low interest loan based on the family's income and is available to low and very-low income credit worthy families in rural areas.

USDA Rural Development is committed to helping improve the economy and quality of life in rural America and supports that commitment by providing affordable housing opportunities for low and very-low income individuals/families. The Self-Help Program can make the American dream of homeownership for individuals/families become a reality.

In accordance with Federal law and U.S. Department of Agriculture policy, this institution is prohibited from discriminating on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, religion, sex and family status. (Not all prohibited basis apply to all programs)

To file a complaint of discrimination, write USDA, Director, Office of Civil Rights, 1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C., 20250-9410 or call (800) 795-3272 (voice) or (202) 720-6382 (TDD).

Assisting the Grantee

The Mutual Self-Help T&MA Contractor Department assists organizations with training in areas such as pre and final application training, and overall program structuring, planning and operational management including budgeting, staffing, staff training and accounting requirements.

Assisting Rural Development

The Mutual Self-Help T&MA Contractor Department provides monitoring services to Rural Development offices within their region in program compliance reviews, administrative funding expenditures, expenditures of participating family funds and construction quality.

Assisting the Community

Communities benefit from money that will generate into the local economy through purchasing of supplies, building materials, employment of subcontractors, sale of real estate, enlargement of tax base and utility sales. The program brings pride into the community through revitalization of neighborhoods as well as the stabilization of the community by providing the opportunity for individuals and families to obtain affordable, safe and decent housing and homeownership.
